By WILLIAM I. MERRILL

I left New York harbor on the 12th of August, amid the hurrahs and goodbyes of a vast crowd, and the face of the nation. I joined the train at Frankfort, and was greeted at Leavenworth, Kansas, by a large and enthusiastic crowd. The trip was successful, and we reached our destination, the state of Iowa, on the 13th of August. The convention was well attended, and the speeches were highly appreciated. The closing address was given by Mr. Charles Boisclair, who spoke on the subject of the aims and objects of the U. N. I. A. and the League. He emphasized the importance of unity and the need for cooperation among the various groups.

Truman, a former president of Liberia, and Mr. H. G. Budgell, a member of the U.S. Senate. Mr. Shuyler will say "yes," and Mr. Budgell will say "no."

Washington, D.C., July 17, 1955. The debate was held in the Senate, and it is scheduled to last for four days. It is likely to be a turning point in the decision of the United States on the issue of intervention in Liberia.
